$1,500 FIRE AT RAINES HOME

AUTO, GARAGE AND OTHER OUT-BUILDINGS DESTROYED

HAD A GOOD HEADWAY

Inflammable Construction of Buildings Furnishes Food for Flames—Damage Covered by Insurance Low Water Pressure.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a five passenger Ford Sedan car, garage and several outbuildings at the residence of H. L. Raines, 603 S. Vine street, about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The total damage done by the blaze is estimated at $1,500, covered by insurance.

The fire was first discovered in a chicken house at the rear of the Raines property where it had secured a good headway. An alarm was turned in but the inflammable construction of the light buildings went up like tinsel, and by the time the fire truck had arrived the blaze and enveloped the garage.

The latter building was burned to the ground and only the iron work on the car was left standing in the smouldering mass. The fire truck played a stream of water on the blaze and the chemical apparatus was also used but the progress which the fire had made before it was discovered made it impossible for the engine to get the blaze under control, and the principal effort of the firemen was directed to keep the flames from spreading to the house and other nearby buildings.

Aside from destroying the buildings and car, the fire also caused considerable damage to a garden in a lot adjoining the garage.

The efforts of the firemen yesterday morning were greatly handicapped by the weak pressure of the water, and it was impossible to get more than a 16 foot stream in the fire at any time. The fire hydrant where the connection was made had rusted and the firemen were forced to break the plug open with an ax.

FEDERALS WIN OVER MAITLAND

CLASSY EXHIBITION STAGED ON LOCAL DIAMOND YESTERDAY

AN EXCITING FINISH

Local Nine Stages Big Offensive in Ninth and Squeezes Through Winning Tally

The Maryville Feds took the crack Maitland baseball team to their first defeat of the season yesterday afternoon on the local diamond to the tune of 6 to 5, in one of the classiest exhibitions of the national pastime staged here this summer.

Speed was the watchword of the contest at the Fair Grounds, and the large crowd of Fed rooters who had gathered to back the local team were given a good run for their money.

In the third inning Maitland started the fireworks when three runners crossed the plate for counters. Maryville came back in their half of the fourth with a bunch of hits which filled the bags, and First Baseman Scarlett "cleaned up" with a clean single which brought the score to 4 and 3 with Maryville on the long end. In the sixth Maitland annexed one more run and repeated the stunt in their half of the eighth.

With the score standing 4 to 5 for Maitland in the last half of the eighth, the Feds braced themselves for the final offensive which won the game. In their half that scored one counter which brought the count up to "five and," and the ninth inning dawned with both teams battling for the lead.

Manager Black, on the mound for the locals, hurled air tight ball during the first half and retired the opponents, one, two, three. Excitement ran rife, and the grandstand was down on the side lines urging the men on. Buhler, the first man up, was hit by the pitcher and walked. Egley flied out and Ferguson singled, advancing Buhler to third. Manager Black then grasped his trusty war club and poled out a long fly to right field on which Buhler scored and won the game.

Conley pitched the opening four rounds of the contest for the locals, with Manager Black on the receiving end, and hurled good ball. In the fifth, however, Black went to the mound, and Busby took up the catching job.

It was a nip and tuck contest throughout and real baseball was staged by every man on the lot. Roberts for the Maitland crew pitched a pretty game of ball, and was the individual star for his team in the hitting department, while Manager Black was the "hero" from the Maryville crowd.

Next Sunday the Feds will clash with the much touted St. Joseph Stockyards nine at the Fair grounds diamond. The down state team has one of the best records in the semi-pro circles of St. Joe, and are bound to furnish an exciting game.

Arrangements are being made for several features next Sunday, and St. Joe will probably bring a large delegation of rooters and a band to the game.

Maryville line-up: Black, captain; Conley, p; Busby, c; Scarlett 1b; Collins, 2b; Buhler, ss; Ferguson, 3b; Hise, lf; Egley, cf; Bland rf.

ANNUAL BOY SCOUT "HIKE"

PRELIMINARY PLANS FOR CAMP NEAR SKIDMORE JULY 19-28

REAL BOY SCOUT LIFE

Trip to Advance Boys to First Class Scout Rank—Other Chapters May Join.

Preliminary plans are being made by Scout Master, M. A. Peery of the Maryville Boy Scout organization, for the annual "hike" which is to be held July 19-28.

It is planned to make the "hike" this year in nature of an encampment, and the spot selected is about four miles southwest of Skidmore, the same location where the Boy Scouts camped last year.

It is set forth in the Boy Scout manual that to advance to a First Class Scout, each lad must hike at least 10 miles, carrying full equipment, and the expedition this summer will fulfill this requirement for all the boys who attend.

The march is to be made overland to the camping grounds and the boys are to prepare their own meals and carry out all the activities of the boy scout organization en route.

Last year 100 boys attended the camp and delegations from Ravenwood, Burlington Junction, and Maitland united with the Maryville lads. The above mentioned chapters in addition to the Hopkins chapter have signified their desire to attend the camp this year.

Mr. Peery stated today that there will be no action by the Boy Scouts of Maryville in the scout week program announced by Governor Gardner. The purpose of the move is to secure aid for the organization through the enlistment of adult associate members and as a campaign put on by the Scouts here last fall in which many adult members were added to the roster, the local officials feel that it is unnecessary to take part in the campaign at this time.

EXTRA DUTY FOR MULE.

St. Louis, June 9.—This story is "on" Colonel Americus Mitchell, who took command of the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Infantry after Colonel E. H. Howland was wounded. Every officer swears to its truth.

They say that while Colonel Mitchell was in command a Missouri mule kicked a slat out of his stall. Colonel Mitchell, they say, "courtmartialed" the mule, and put him on five days' extra duty for punishment.

Another time Colonel Mitchell denied himself breakfast because he overslept himself one morning.

DON'T CONTRIBUTE TO UNIFORMED PEDDLERS

Government Makes Request That Graft Be Stopped—Systematic Swindling.

The American Red Cross is cooperating with government officials in discouraging discharged soldiers and sailors, who are taking advantage of the uniform by soliciting and selling souvenirs, etc. on the public streets. Since the signing of the armistice and the discharge of thousands of soldiers and sailors from the service, hundreds of street-sellers have sprung up throughout the country, preying on the unsuspecting public, who through honor and respect to the uniform have contributed to the coffers of the discharged men.

The use of the uniform as a means of playing on the sympathy of the public has been condemned by the government. What the soldiers themselves think of men who use the uniform for swindling schemes and begging games is seen clearly in an issue of "The Come Back," the weekly newspaper published by and for the soldier patients at the Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., the largest reconstruction hospital in the country.

In the place of honor on the front page is a news article dealing with abuses of the army uniform and the leading editorial deals in a rough and ready way with the question.

"The men," it says, "who went to face the holocaust of Prussian hate offered their all in order that Americans might keep the right to earn an honest living. The soldiers went through all the living hells of war for an ideal. They have given to death with a smile. They are not beggars and never will be.

"Men have formed crews for systematic swindling, and are at the lazy lucrative task of holding out a box for the hard-earned silver of honest folks, who give because they honor the men who went over the top. They have succeeded because the public does not understand.

"You, the public, must help us. Don't give to these beggars. They will go out of business when you quit giving.

"Under the Dome," the publication of the U. S. General Hospital at West Baden, Ind., features an article headed. "Boys, don't use your army uniforms when you get home as a means to play on the sympathy of the people. Don't be a petty grafter."

"The Red Cross, War Department and police plan to cooperate in apprehending and bringing to justice all fakirs in army uniforms, and putting a stop to all unauthorized peddling on the streets, and begging. It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to assist in stopping such discreditable practice."

EFFORT TO BRING G. O. P. CONVENTION TO ST. LOUIS

Jacob Babler, Republican National Committeeman, Working Hard for Big Meeting.

St. Louis, June 9.—Strong efforts are being made by local Republican leaders to bring the Republican National Convention of 1920 to this city. Jacob Babler, Republican National committeeman has informed St. Louis hotel men and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and Convention and Publicity Bureau that he will work hard to get the convention to St. Louis.

St. Louis claims will be presented at the next meeting of the National Republican Committee by Babler.

St. Louis has not had a Republican convention since 1896, when McKinley was elected president. However, this city, has been the scene of two Democratic conventions, one in 1904 and the other in 1916.

T. E. Glancy, president of the hotel men; Carl F. G. Meyer, president of the Convention Bureau and Paul V. Bunn, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, have outlined what their respective organizations plan to do if the Republican National Convention comes to this city.

Don't expect to get through a hot summer of hard work without a sick spell, if you start with your system full of impurities. To avoid a break-down in the busy season begin now taking Prickly Ash Bitters, the remedy for men. It will purify the blood, liver and bowels and put the system in a healthy condition. The cause of death was suffocation, and the verdict accidental death.

SPARES THE STATE'S FUNDS

Big Appropriation Bills Cut Down by the Governor.

The last of the appropriation bills enacted by the last legislature were passed Saturday by Govenor Gardner. Many of the measures carrying large appropriations were vetoed. The governor estimates that he has cut down the appropriations to 18 million dollars. It is predicted now the state may meet its biennial expenditures, as it is almost certain that the assessed valuation in the state will be increased ½ billion dollars.

The State Teachers College of this city, had its appropriation reduced $30,000.

The biggest single cut made by the governor was an item of $260,000 for pensions for the ex-Confederate soldiers and sailors. That item was in the general appropriation bill. Another item cut out of this bill was $30,000 for the establishment of a home for neglected children.

The state normal schools came in for cuts as follows: Kirksville, $100,000; Cape Girardeau, $15,000; Springfield, $150,000. New buildings in connection with the state university, $45,000.

The eleemosynary institutions were sliced as follows: Fulton for insane, $40,000; St. Joseph asylum for insane, $40,000; Farmington asylum for insane, $81,000; home for the feeble minded at Marshall, $45,000; deaf and dumb institute at Fulton, $17,000.

The general appropriation bill items were vetoed to the amount of $416,423; educational bill, $40,000; eleemosynary institutions, $249,000.

Launches Another International Show

The Chicago Board of Trade, desiring to stimulate and improve grain and forage production, offers $10,000 in premiums to exhibitors of grains and hay at the International Live Stock Exposition of Chicago, during the first week in December.

The management of this Exposition promises to stage a Show of Grains and Forage which will in all respects be on a par with the wonderful exhibits of live stock annually assembled at this, "The World's Greatest Live Stock Show."

By having these powerful influences co-operate, the exhibition of grains and forage may be looked for, the equal of which has never been seen anywhere.

Parasites Cause Losses.

There are thousands of species of parasites belonging to the animal kingdom already known to man, and new ones are continually being discovered. Some of them appear to be quite harmless; others are most injurious, and some produce conditions for which no cures have been discovered. The loss to the live-stock industry in the United States from animal parasites amounts to hundreds of millions of dollars every year, and in addition to this damage certain of these parasites can be transmitted to man, either in meat or in other ways. It was for the purpose of investigating such parasitic organisms with the view of developing methods of prevention, control, and treatment that the Zoological Division of the Bureau of Animal Industry was established. The division now possesses one of the largest collections of specimens of parasites in the world, which is most useful for purposes of reference in identifying specimens sent in by farmers, veterinarians, and others.

Grow Fall Potatoes.

A second or fall crop of Irish potatoes can be grown profitably from central Missouri southward, says J. T. Rosa, Jr., of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. In fact in favorable seasons when the first does not come too early, the fall crop may be more satisfactory than the ordinary spring crop. The advantage of the fall crop is, that it matures in cool moist fall weather which is ideal for the potato; the tubers are large, free of disease, and bright colored; since they do not mature until cold weather, fall potatoes keep especially well in storage, and may be kept in ordinary storage without sprouting or shriveling until late the following spring; the eating quality of fall potatoes is far better than that of the spring crop, which matures in hot weather and is notoriously poor in quality. Another advantage that may be especially important to the potato grower is the fact that tubers from the fall crop are particularly good for seed purposes the following spring. In fact, experiments at the Missouri Experiment Station have shown that best results with the spring crop are obtained by planting fall home-grown seed.

The fall potato crop should be planted around July 1 in central Missouri, and a little later further south. The question of seed is important. In southern sections tubers from the spring crop can be used for seed purposes, of they are ripened by spreading out thinly on the ground under a tree for a couple of weeks before planting. It has been found that the best method of obtaining seed for the fall crop is to place seed in cold storage about the time the spring crop is planted. They will remain in perfect condition without sprouting for months, at a temperature of 38°. Varieties for fall crop purposes may be the same as for the spring crop, such as Early Ohio and Irish Cobbler. There are varieties, however, which are especially adapted to this season, such as the McCormick, Peachblow and the Banner. These varieties are capable of withstanding heat in midsummer, and produce a large crop of tubers of good eating and keeping quality. However, these varieties are worthless for spring planting. The main difficulty in growing fall potatoes is obtaining a good stand. Use of large seed-pieces and planting in fine, well prepared soil just after a rain will usually result in a fair stand.

Curiosity Proves Fatal.

Carlinville, Ill., June 9.—Curiosity spelled death for James Slabi. He and other companions were playing near an old abandoned coal mine shaft here. Slabi espied a copper boiler at the bottom of the shaft. He wanted it. Securing a rope he tied it about his waist and with the aid of the boys was lowered into the shaft. A few minutes afterward he began to cry for help. When his companions pulled the rope up he had loosened it. The cries continued. Then one of the boys volunteered to go to Slabi's rescue. The rope was tied about his body and he entered the opening. Shortly afterward he, too, began to call for aid. On being brought to the surface the rescuer was revived form poisonous gas fumes with difficulty. When Slabi's body was finally recovered he was dead.

FALL 1,000 FEET FROM AIRPLANE—NOT INJURED

Rockford, Ill., June 9.—To fall 1,000 feet in an airplane and come out uninjured is the miraculous experience of Sergeants Frank G. Carmack and C. D. Cannon. They were on their first lap of a flight from Fort Snelling, Minn., to Rockford in a machine they had purchased at auction from the Government. Two miles out the airplane collapsed and landed in a swamp. Word of the accident was received here, where Carmack resides. Both were recently discharged from the aviation section of the army. They expect to attempt the flight again as soon as their plane is repaired.

NO DECREASE IN BREAD

Frank P. Reuillard Returns From a Meeting of Master Bakers in St. Louis Last Week.

Frank P. Reuillard returned Friday from St. Louis where he had been attending the convention of the Master Bakers of Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, and purchasing new machinery for an exclusive bakery in this city. He reports a most enjoyable time, which included a banquet at the Planters Hotel.

According to Mr. Reuillard the outlook for flour and bread remains unchanged. Since the government has guaranteed a price of $2.26 (Chicago) on all the wheat for this year, the mills find it impossible to do anything but pay that price and also must hold their prices the same as they have been.

If there should be a slump in the price of wheat, caused by the shipment of Argentine wheat to the United States at a cheaper price, the government has provided a fund of one billion dollars to care for the decrease in price.

However, the Government does not look for any such drop this year. In fact, though prepared for it if it should come, the Government will do all in its power to keep from spending this large sum to care for a drop in price.

Until the price of flour drops, the price of bread can not drop. At present the bakers are running with a small margin, so that it would take a decided drop to really mean much to them. However, they are prepared to give the people the advantage of any reduction in price, should it come.

On June 10 and 11 there will be a convention of all the different branches of merchants, dealers and wholesalers who are in any way interested in the grain proposition, at New York, and the bakers throughout the country are anxiously waiting to get the reports from this convention. The wheat in the central states will be at least three weeks late on the market caused by the rain, which will probably place it at a premium instead of a reduction.

Marquis Leading Spring Wheat.

The Marquis variety of wheat has gained on other varieties of spring wheat, year by year, until in 1918 it was more than one-half of the spring wheat chop. As estimated by the Bureau of Crrop Estimates of the United States of America, the Marquis variety was 59 per cent of the spring wheat crop in Minnesota, 47 per cent in North Dakota, 58 per cent in South Dakota, and 47 per cent in Montana.

Durum wheat, in demand for regions of low rainfall and with a special market as a material for such products as macaroni, was second in popularity in 1918 in North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana, where it produced 29, 20, and 15 per cent, respectively, of the total spring wheat crop. This variety of wheat has the the advantage of large productivity per acre, a quality possessed almost in equal degree by the Marquis variety.

The Velvet Chaff variety had second place in Minnesota with 22 per cent of the total, third place in North Dakota wtih 9 per cent, third in South Dakota with 12 per cent, and fourth in Montana with 2 per cent.

Third place was taken by Blue Stem in Minnesota, and this variety produced 12 per cent of the spring crop; it was of small use in North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana, as were Fife and other varities.

Broadway Follows Maryville Lead

It is entirely possible that the Broadway Association never heard of Maryville, Nodaway County, Missouri. But it is perhaps significant that within a week after Maryville started its campaign of advertising that community to itself, Broadway New York City, followed. How the Commercial Club of Maryville watched with interest the success achieved by propaganda during the war and saw the idea of democracy sold successfully to the world by up-to-date American advertising methods, and brought this thought several thousand miles nearer home was told in last week's issue of Printer's Ink.

Broadway, too, is a community. It has all the interests that any ordinary city possesses. It is the one street in New York—perhaps in the world—which includes every element of community life—banking, wholesale and retail merchandising, manufacturing, hotels, concert halls, motion picture theatres, apartment houses, individual homes and parks. In all of these community elements, it has something to show to the world and sell to itself. The Maryville Commercial Club sold the community to itself by advertising its advantages and asking for suggestions from its citizens.

A short time ago, a new poster appeared on Broadway. It was found on no other street of this city. It said, "Give a Thought to Broadway." There was nothing on the poster to show from whence it came or why it had been put up. A trained investigator visited seven stores where this poster was displayed and could find no information at any one of them. "Somebody put it up," the said: "that's all we know about it." It was later discovered that the Broadway Association had issued the poster with the idea of getting the citizens of this community to think about their own town, Broadway. Just as the Commercial Club of Maryville wanted people to know more about their town, so the average citizen of Broadway has been thinking so much about Armenians, mandatory powers in Turkey, Italian claims to Fiume, and what not, that he hasn't given as many thoughts as he should to Broadway.

The old prints of this well-known street show interesting little restaurants and cafes, where men of the old days used to congregate without waiting for dinner of their association to bring them together. In those days, citizens of Broadway actually sat on their front porches in the evenings and talked things over. Straw rides in summer and sleigh rides in winter made for a more neighborly feeling and the skyline looked a whole lot less individualistic. During the last fifty years, Broadway "just growed" without any of its citizens giving much thought as to how or why. Now the railroad terminals are apparently going to stay put. Investors in real estate are going to study areas much more thoroughly and will develop them in a more permanent way. Broadway, after this quick period of growth, seems finally to have settled down and it is time, so the Merchants' Association decided, to give a thought to it.

Suggestions for Improving the Street.

With its growing pains behind that well known street, the Broadway Association has taken upon itself the task of providing a new suit of clothes for this lusky young citizen who has outgrown its old. To accomplish this, it is selling Broadway to itself.

After the teaser-posters, described above, had been out for a few days, therefore, the citizens who were to furnish the pattern for the new suit, were mailed a letter by the Broadway Association and were asked to send the thoughts they had been giving Broadway, to make the pattern. The idea was to select and combine the suggestions into a programme of things which would improve Broadway—the programme then to become an aim of the expanded organization which would take up each part of Broadway in a decentralized way, and work out a suggestion made by the citizen who lived nearest that point, if the suggestions were practicable. Broadway proved that it had been giving some thought to the subject by coming back at the Association with a vengence. More than 15,000 thoughts have apparently been given Broadway. They were sent into the Association in reams. Replies came from bootblacks, bank presidents, dress reformers, landscape gardeners and people who just wanted to be funny. The suggestions varied all the way from abolishing cabarets and hobble-skirts to asking Trinity Church to plant grass between the stone wall of its cemetery and the sidewalk between 153d and 157th Streets.

Henry Bruere, former City Chamberlain, urged that Broadway be beautified and "devulgarized by some city planning."

S. D. Bain, president of the Seaboard National bank, was in favor of material improvement in the neighborhood of 30th street, where "Augustin Daly's old theatre, the former dramatic temple of America, once held forth."

One man suggested that the most beautiful light tower in the world be erected at Times Square, dedicated to the soldiers and sailors.

The thought about the paving on Broadway, which has been joked about at every Winter Garden review for years past, naturally came in for its full share of attention. One writer suggested a pavement which does not have to be renewed every three years.

A physician suggested that an elevated roadway for light automobiles be put over Broadway from 59th street to 117th street.

Remarks about the Subway were frequent and vehement.

Thoughts on flowers were numerous. One man suggested that elevated structures be made to bloom with sweet peas, geraniums and rambler roses, after the fashion of summer porches and city window ledges.

One man gave a thought to Broadway for a couple of days apparently and came through with this: "Make every storekeeper on Broadway maintain a canvas drop awning, so that during hard rains pedestrians will be protected."

Many writers demanded more light after 2 a. m. No one apparently was cruel enough to suggest, as the French officer did when they were discussing what they would do to Berlin when they entered it, namely, to leave it as it is now.

This week the Association will conduct the expansion campaign to decentralize their work and divide the entire street into districts. The actual work founded on some of the suggestions will be carried on by teams under the command of majors and captains. The General Chairman of the campaign is Dr. John A. Harris, and among the chairmen of the committee are Louis Kaufman, R. A. C. Smith, Chester Alexander, Deputy Police Comcissioner Frederick A. Wallace, F. B. Carey, Reginald Palham and John Williams of the Irving Trust Company.

When both Maryville, Nodaway County, Missouri and Broadway, that well known "village" in New York, find it profitable to untilize the modern force of advertising in selling a community to itself, advertising solicitors on newspapers everywhere with an idea and perseverance apparently have a brilliant opportunity to go and make their city fathers do likewise.—From "Printers' Ink,—— May 29.

TEXAS OIL MILL MAN IS GRATEFUL

McCracken Couldn't Eat or Sleep To Do Any Good Before Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac proved to be the very thing I needed, for it soon put an end to my troubles," said D. V. McCracken, 829 Second Ave., Dallas, Tex., night superintendent of the Dallas Oil and Refining Co.

"I had been troubled with indigestion for over two years," he continued, "and was going downhill fast. I was constantly belching up sour food and didn't digest enough to keep up my strength or do me any good, and I lived almost entirely on cereals. My stomach felt like there was a knot in it and hurt me all the time, and I was swollen up with gas till my heart would flutter and I would get dizzy. I could hardly sleep when I went to bed and got little rest at all.

"I had the best treatment money could buy, and kept getting worse all the time. I was induced by a friend to try Tanlac and it fixed me up so I can eat and digest anything I want and sleep fine at night. I have no more gas on my stomach, no palpitations nor dizziness, and I felt so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me that it is a pleasure to indorse it."

Tanlac is sold in Maryville by the Koch Pharmacy and by A. M. Colly, Conception Junction; H. M. Lincoln, Pickering, and Carter Pharmacy, Burington Junction, Mo., and in Barnard, by Bear Drug Store, in Elmo by King Drug Co., and in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley; Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk. —Adv.

HAD A GOOD HEADWAY

Inflammable Construction of Buildings Furnishes Food for Flames—Damage Covered by Insurance Low Water Pressure.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a five passenger Ford Sedan car, garage and several outbuildings at the residence of H. L. Raines, 603 S. Vine street, about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The total damage done by the blaze is estimated at $1,500, covered by insurance.

The fire was first discovered in a chicken house at the rear of the Raines property where it had secured a good headway. An alarm was turned in but the inflammable construction of the light buildings went up like tinsel, and by the time the fire truck had arrived the blaze and enveloped the garage.

The latter building was burned to the ground and only the iron work on the car was left standing in the smouldering mass. The fire truck played a stream of water on the blaze and the chemical apparatus was also used but the progress which the fire had made before it was discovered made it impossible for the engine to get the blaze under control, and the principal effort of the firemen was directed to keep the flames from spreading to the house and other nearby buildings.

Aside from destroying the buildings and car, the fire also caused considerable damage to a garden in a lot adjoining the garage.

The efforts of the firemen yesterday morning were greatly handicapped by the weak pressure of the water, and it was impossible to get more than a 16 foot stream in the fire at any time. The fire hydrant where the connection was made had rusted and the firemen were forced to break the plug open with an ax.

FEDERALS WIN OVER MAITLAND

AN EXCITING FINISH

Local Nine Stages Big Offensive in Ninth and Squeezes Through Winning Tally

The Maryville Feds took the crack Maitland baseball team to their first defeat of the season yesterday afternoon on the local diamond to the tune of 6 to 5, in one of the classiest exhibitions of the national pastime staged here this summer.

Speed was the watchword of the contest at the Fair Grounds, and the large crowd of Fed rooters who had gathered to back the local team were given a good run for their money.

In the third inning Maitland started the fireworks when three runners crossed the plate for counters. Maryville came back in their half of the fourth with a bunch of hits which filled the bags, and First Baseman Scarlett "cleaned up" with a clean single which brought the score to 4 and 3 with Maryville on the long end. In the sixth Maitland annexed one more run and repeated the stunt in their half of the eighth.

With the score standing 4 to 5 for Maitland in the last half of the eighth, the Feds braced themselves for the final offensive which won the game. In their half that scored one counter which brought the count up to "five and," and the ninth inning dawned with both teams battling for the lead.

Manager Black, on the mound for the locals, hurled air tight ball during the first half and retired the opponents, one, two, three. Excitement ran rife, and the grandstand was down on the side lines urging the men on. Buhler, the first man up, was hit by the pitcher and walked. Egley flied out and Ferguson singled, advancing Buhler to third. Manager Black then grasped his trusty war club and poled out a long fly to right field on which Buhler scored and won the game.

Conley pitched the opening four rounds of the contest for the locals, with Manager Black on the receiving end, and hurled good ball. In the fifth, however, Black went to the mound, and Busby took up the catching job.

It was a nip and tuck contest throughout and real baseball was staged by every man on the lot. Roberts for the Maitland crew pitched a pretty game of ball, and was the individual star for his team in the hitting department, while Manager Black was the "hero" from the Maryville crowd.

Next Sunday the Feds will clash with the much touted St. Joseph Stockyards nine at the Fair grounds diamond. The down state team has one of the best records in the semi-pro circles of St. Joe, and are bound to furnish an exciting game.

Arrangements are being made for several features next Sunday, and St. Joe will probably bring a large delegation of rooters and a band to the game.

Maryville line-up: Black, captain; Conley, p; Busby, c; Scarlett 1b; Collins, 2b; Buhler, ss; Ferguson, 3b; Hise, lf; Egley, cf; Bland rf.

ANNUAL BOY SCOUT "HIKE"

REAL BOY SCOUT LIFE

Trip to Advance Boys to First Class Scout Rank—Other Chapters May Join.

Preliminary plans are being made by Scout Master, M. A. Peery of the Maryville Boy Scout organization, for the annual "hike" which is to be held July 19-28.

It is planned to make the "hike" this year in nature of an encampment, and the spot selected is about four miles southwest of Skidmore, the same location where the Boy Scouts camped last year.

It is set forth in the Boy Scout manual that to advance to a First Class Scout, each lad must hike at least 10 miles, carrying full equipment, and the expedition this summer will fulfill this requirement for all the boys who attend.

The march is to be made overland to the camping grounds and the boys are to prepare their own meals and carry out all the activities of the boy scout organization en route.

Last year 100 boys attended the camp and delegations from Ravenwood, Burlington Junction, and Maitland united with the Maryville lads. The above mentioned chapters in addition to the Hopkins chapter have signified their desire to attend the camp this year.

Mr. Peery stated today that there will be no action by the Boy Scouts of Maryville in the scout week program announced by Governor Gardner. The purpose of the move is to secure aid for the organization through the enlistment of adult associate members and as a campaign put on by the Scouts here last fall in which many adult members were added to the roster, the local officials feel that it is unnecessary to take part in the campaign at this time.

'BIG 4' COMPLETES THE ULTIMATUM

FOUR MODIFICATIONS

Germany May Be Admitted to the League of Nations If She Lives Up to the Terms.

Paris, June 9.—The big four today placed the finishing touches upon the ultimatum which will accompany the reply to the German counter proposals this week. Four material modifications in the treaty have virtually been settled. They are: First, that Germany be furnished coal from the upper Silesia and Polish territory; second, that Germany be furnished the complete records of the league of nations, and if she lives up to the terms which they say, to be actually admitted to the forthcoming meeting in Washington in October; third, military arrangements are now modified whereby the army may be abolished if the leaders desire; fourth, Germany is given representation on the economic commission, but this commission will soon receive ironclad orders to fix definitely the size and payment of the terms of the indemnities not later than October.

EXTRA DUTY FOR MULE.

St. Louis, June 9.—This story is "on" Colonel Americus Mitchell, who took command of the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Infantry after Colonel E. H. Howland was wounded. Every officer swears to its truth.

They say that while Colonel Mitchell was in command a Missouri mule kicked a slat out of his stall. Colonel Mitchell, they say, "courtmartialed" the mule, and put him on five days' extra duty for punishment.

Another time Colonel Mitchell denied himself breakfast because he overslept himself one morning.

DON'T CONTRIBUTE TO UNIFORMED PEDDLERS

Government Makes Request That Graft Be Stopped—Systematic Swindling.

The American Red Cross is cooperating with government officials in discouraging discharged soldiers and sailors, who are taking advantage of the uniform by soliciting and selling souvenirs, etc., on the public streets. Since the signing of the armistice and the discharge of thousands of soldiers and sailors from the service, hundreds of street-sellers have sprung up throughout the country, preying on the unsuspecting public, who through honor and respect to the uniform have contributed to the coffers of the discharged men.

The use of the uniform as a means of playing on the sympathy of the public has been condemned by the government. What the soldiers themselves think of men who use the uniform for swindling schemes and begging games is seen clearly in an issue of "The Come Back," the weekly newspaper published by and for the soldier patients at the Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., the largest reconstruction hospital in the country.

In the place of honor on the front page is a news article dealing with abuses of the army uniform and the leading editorial deals in a rough and ready way with the question.

"The men," it says, "who went to face the holocaust of Prussian hate offered their all in order that Americans might keep the right to earn an honest living. The soldiers went through all the living hells of war for an ideal. They have given to death with a smile. They are not beggars and never will be.

"Men have formed crews for systematic swindling, and are at the lazy lucrative task of holding out a box for the hard-earned silver of honest folks, who give because they honor the men who went over the top. They have succeeded because the public does not understand.

"You, the public, must help us. Don't give to these beggars. They will go out of business when you quit giving.

"Under the Dome," the publication of the U. S. General Hospital at West Baden, Ind., features an article headed. "Boys, don't use your army uniforms when you get home as a means to play on the sympathy of the people. Don't be a petty grafter."

"The Red Cross, War Department and police plan to cooperate in apprehending and bringing to justice all fakirs in army uniforms, and putting a stop to all unauthorized peddling on the streets, and begging. It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to assist in stopping such discreditable practice."

St. Louis, June 9.—Strong efforts are being made by local Republican leaders to bring the Republican National Convention of 1920 to this city. Jacob Babler, Republican National committeeman has informed St. Louis hotel men and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and Convention and Publicity Bureau that he will work hard to get the convention to St. Louis.

St. Louis claims will be presented at the next meeting of the National Republican Committee by Babler.

St. Louis has not had a Republican convention since 1896, when McKinley was elected president. However, this city, has been the scene of two Democratic conventions, one in 1904 and the other in 1916.

T. E. Glancy, president of the hotel men; Carl F. G. Meyer, president of the Convention Bureau and Paul V. Bunn, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, have outlined what their respective organizations plan to do if the Republican National Convention comes to this city.

Don't expect to get through a hot summer of hard work without a sick spell, if you start with your system full of impurities. London, June 9.—A Pimlico laborer named William O'Connor drowned himself in a peculiar manner.

At the inquest evidence was given that he drank a quantity of beer on Good Friday and died suddenly. Dr. Collier said that he found beer in the man's lungs, and that doubtless O'Connor had taken a deep breath and had drowned himself by bringing the beer down into his lungs.

The cause of death was suffocation, and the verdict accidental death.

SPARES THE STATE'S FUNDS

Big Appropriation Bills Cut Down by the Governor.

The last of the appropriation bills enacted by the last legislature were passed Saturday by Govenor Gardner. Many of the measures carrying large appropriations were vetoed. The governor estimates that he has cut down the appropriations to 18 million dollars. It is predicted now the state may meet its biennial expenditures, as it is almost certain that the assessed valuation in the state will be increased ½ billion dollars.

The State Teachers College of this city, had its appropriation reduced $30,000.

The biggest single cut made by the governor was an item of $260,000 for pensions for the ex-Confederate soldiers and sailors. That item was in the general appropriation bill. Another item cut out of this bill was $30,000 for the establishment of a home for neglected children.

The state normal schools came in for cuts as follows: Kirksville, $100,000; Cape Girardeau, $15,000; Springfield, $150,000. New buildings in connection with the state university, $45,000.

The eleemosynary institutions were sliced as follows: Fulton for insane, $40,000; St. Joseph asylum for insane, $40,000; Farmington asylum for insane, $81,000; home for the feeble minded at Marshall, $45,000; deaf and dumb institute at Fulton, $17,000.

The general appropriation bill items were vetoed to the amount of $416,423; educational bill, $40,000; eleemosynary institutions, $249,000.

Parasites Cause Great Losses.

There are thousands of species of parasites belonging to the animal kingdom already known to man, and new ones are continually being discovered. Some of them appear to be quite harmless; others are most injurious, and some produce conditions for which no cures have been discovered. The loss to the live-stock industry in the United States from animal parasites amounts to hundreds of millions of dollars every year, and in addition to this damage certain of these parasites can be transmitted to man, either in meat or in other ways. It was for the purpose of investigating such parasitic organisms with the view of developing methods of prevention, control, and treatment that the Zoological Division of the Bureau of Animal Industry was established. The division now possesses one of the largest collections of specimens of parasites in the world, which is most useful for purposes of reference in identifying specimens sent in by farmers, veterinarians, and others.

Grow Fall Potatoes.

A second or fall crop of Irish potatoes can be grown profitably from central Missouri southward, says J. T. Rosa, Jr., of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. In fact in favorable seasons when frost does not come too early, the fall crop may be more satisfactory than the ordinary spring crop. The advantage of the fall crop is, that it matures in cool moist fall weather which is ideal for the potato; the tubers are large, free of disease, and bright colored; since they do not mature until cold weather, fall potatoes keep especially well in storage, and may be kept in ordinary storage without sprouting or shriveling until late the following spring; the eating quality of fall potatoes is far better than that of the spring crop, which matures in hot weather and is notoriously poor in quality. Another advantage that may be especially important to the potato grower is the fact that tubers from the fall crop are particularly good for seed purposes the following spring. In fact, experiments at the Missouri Experiment Station have shown that best results with the spring crop are obtained by planting fall home-grown seed.

The fall potato crop should be planted around July 1 in central Missouri, and a little later further south. The question of seed is important. In southern sections tubers from the spring crop can be used for seed purposes, of they are ripened by spreading out thinly on the ground under a tree for a couple of weeks before planting. It has been found that the best method of obtaining seed for the fall crop is to place seed in cold storage about the time the spring crop is planted. They will remain in perfect condition without sprouting for months, at a temperature of 35°. Varieties for fall crop purposes may be the same as for the spring crop, such as Early Ohio and Irish Cobbler. There are varieties, however, which are especially adapted to this season, such as the McCormick, Peachblow and the Banner. These varieties are capable of withstanding heat in midsummer, and produce a large crop of tubers of good eating and keeping quality. However, these varieties are worthless for spring planting. The main difficulty in growing fall potatoes is obtaining a good stand. Use of large seed-pieces and planting in fine, well prepared soil just after a rain will usually result in a fair stand.

Curiosity Proves Fatal.

Carlinville, Ill., June 9.—Curiosity spelled death for James Slabi. He and other companions were playing near an old abandoned coal mine shaft here. Slabi espied a copper boiler at the bottom of the shaft. He wanted it. Securing a rope he tied it about his waist and with the aid of the boys was lowered into the shaft. A few minutes afterward he began to cry for help. When his companions pulled the rope up he had loosened it. The cries continued. Then one of the boys volunteered to go to Slabi's rescue. The rope was tied about his body and he entered the opening. Shortly afterward he, too, began to call for aid. On being brought to the surface the rescuer was revived form poisonous gas fumes with difficulty. When Slabi's body was finally recovered he was dead.

FALL 1,000 FEET FROM AIRPLANE—NOT INJURED

Rockford, Ill., June 9.—To fall 1,000 feet in an airplane and come out uninjured is the miraculous experience of Sergeants Frank G. Carmack and C. D. Cannon. They were on their first lap of a flight from Fort Snelling, Minn., to Rockford in a machine they had purchased at auction from the Government. Two miles out the airplane collapsed and landed in a swamp. Word of the accident was received here, where Carmack resides. Both were recently discharged from the aviation section of the army. They expect to attempt the flight again as soon as their plane is repaired.

NO DECREASE IN BREAD

Frank P. Reuillard Returns From a Meeting of Master Bakers in St. Louis Last Week.

Frank P. Reuillard returned Friday from St. Louis where he had been attending the convention of the Master Bakers of Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, and purchasing new machinery for an exclusive bakery in this city. He reports a most enjoyable time, which included a banquet at the Planters Hotel.

According to Mr. Reuillard the outlook for flour and bread remains unchanged. Since the government has guaranteed a price of $2.26 (Chicago) on all the wheat for this year, the mills find it impossible to do anything but pay that price and also must hold their prices the same as they have been.

If there should be a slump in the price of wheat, caused by the shipment of Argentine wheat to the United States at a cheaper price, the government has provided a fund of one billion dollars to care for the decrease in price.

However, the Government does not look for any such drop this year. In fact, though prepared for it if it should come, the Government will do all in its power to keep from spending this large sum to care for a drop in price.

Until the price of flour drops, the price of bread can not drop. At present the bakers are running with a small margin, so that it would take a decided drop to really mean much to them. However, they are prepared to give the people the advantage of any reduction in price, should it come.

On June 10 and 11 there will be a convention of all the different branches of merchants, dealers and wholesalers who are in any way interested in the grain proposition, at New York, and the bakers throughout the country are anxiously waiting to get the reports from this convention. The wheat in the central states will be at least three weeks late on the market caused by the rain, which will probably place it at a premium instead of a reduction.

For those active in the service the Company provides steady employment, good working conditions and satisfactory compensation.

In return the Company has required efficiency—the kind of whole-hearted, painstaking effort which a well paid employee, working under pleasant conditions, is glad and happy to give.

It is this working spirit, developing in this highly specialized branch of industry the highest type of co-operative interest, which enables the Company to discharge its obligations as a public servant in a manner satisfactory and beneficial to the public, and to the 4623 stockholders, not one of whom holds as much as ten percent of the total stock.

There are 19,568 men and women in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) family, more than double the enrollment of ten years ago—yet of those who were with the Company in 1909, more than 2000 are still actively engaged in the business, while over 800 are wearing the gold button, symbolizing twenty years of continuous service.

PINS MEDAL ON HIMSELF THEN DODGES PUBLICITY.

San Francisco, June 9.—Major-General John F. Morrison, commanding officer of the Western Department, is wearing the ribbon of the Distinguished Service Medal recently awarded him by the government for meritorious work in the training of American soldiers for service in France.

True to his natural modesty and well-known dislike for publicity, no ceremony attended the bestowal of the medal. General Morrison, being the commanding officer of the Western Department and the ranking officer on the Pacific Coast, simply pinned the medal on himself.

CLASSED AS DESERTER: HAD SERVED TWO YEARS.

Junction City, Kan., June 9.—After serving in the United States Army for over two years, half of the time overseas, Gene L. Asher returned here with an honorable army discharge to find himself listed by the Draft Board as a deserter. Gene enlisted a couple of days after war was declared. Failure to answer his questionnaire, due to his being in the army and the misspelling of his name, caused the dual army record to be made. It will be righted.

Marquis Leading Spring Wheat.

The Marquis variety of wheat has gained on other varieties of spring wheat, year by year, until in 1918 it was more than one-half of the spring wheat chop. As estimated by the Bureau of Crrop Estimates of the United States of America, the Marquis variety was 59 per cent of the spring wheat crop in Minnesota, 47 per cent in North Dakota, 58 per cent in South Dakota, and 47 per cent in Montana.

Durum wheat, in demand for regions of low rainfall and with a special market as a material for such products as macaroni, was second in popularity in 1918 in North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana, where it produced 29, 20, and 15 per cent, respectively, of the total spring wheat crop. This variety of wheat has the the advantage of large productivity per acre, a quality possessed almost in equal degree by the Marquis variety.

The Velvet Chaff variety had second place in Minnesota with 22 per cent of the total, third place in North Dakota wtih 9 per cent, third in South Dakota with 12 per cent, and fourth in Montana with 2 per cent.

Third place was taken by Blue Stem in Minnesota, and this variety produced 12 per cent of the spring crop; it was of small use in North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana, as were Fife and other varities.

Broadway Follows Maryville Lead

It is entirely possible that the Broadway Association never heard of Maryville, Nodaway County, Missouri. But it is perhaps significant that within a week after Maryville started its campaign of advertising that community to itself, Broadway New York City, followed. How the Commercial Club of Maryville watched with interest the success achieved by propaganda during the war and saw the idea of democracy sold successfully to the world by up-to-date American advertising methods, and brought this thought several thousand miles nearer home was told in last week's issue of Printer's Ink.

Broadway, too, is a community. It has all the interests that any ordinary city possesses. It is the one street in New York—perhaps in the world—which includes every element of community life—banking, wholesale and retail merchandising, manufacturing, hotels, concert halls, motion picture theatres, apartment houses, individual homes and parks. In all of these community elements, it has something to show to the world and sell to itself. The Maryville Commercial Club sold the community to itself by advertising its advantages and asking for suggestions from its citizens.

A short time ago, a new poster appeared on Broadway. It was found on no other street of this city. It said, "Give a Thought to Broadway." There was nothing on the poster to show from whence it came or why it had been put up. A trained investigator visited seven stores where this poster was displayed and could find no information at any one of them. "Somebody put it up," the said: "that's all we know about it." It was later discovered that the Broadway Association had issued the poster with the idea of getting the citizens of this community to think about their own town, Broadway. Just as the Commercial Club of Maryville wanted people to know more about their town, so the average citizen of Broadway has been thinking so much about Armenians, mandatory powers in Turkey, Italian claims to Fiume, and what not, that he hasn't given as many thoughts as he should to Broadway.

The old prints of this well-known street show interesting little restaurants and cafes, where men of the old days used to congregate without waiting for dinner of their association to bring them together. In those days, citizens of Broadway actually sat on their front porches in the evenings and talked things over. Straw rides in summer and sleigh rides in winter made for a more neighborly feeling and the skyline looked a whole lot less individualistic. During the last fifty years, Broadway "just growed" without any of its citizens giving much thought as to how or why. Now the railroad terminals are apparently going to stay put. Investors in real estate are going to study areas much more thoroughly and will develop them in a more permanent way. Broadway, after this quick period of growth, seems finally to have settled down and it is time, so the Merchants' Association decided, to give a thought to it.

Suggestions for Improving the Street.

With its growing pains behind that well known street, the Broadway Association has taken upon itself the task of providing a new suit of clothes for this lusky young citizen who has outgrown its old. To accomplish this, it is selling Broadway to itself.

After the teaser-posters, described above, had been out for a few days, therefore, the citizens who were to furnish the pattern for the new suit, were mailed a letter by the Broadway Association and were asked to send the thoughts they had been giving Broadway, to make the pattern. The idea was to select and combine the suggestions into a programme of things which would improve Broadway—the programme then to become an aim of the expanded organization which would take up each part of Broadway in a decentralized way, and work out a suggestion made by the citizen who lived nearest that point, if the suggestions were practicable. Broadway proved that it had been giving some thought to the subject by coming back at the Association with a vengence. More than 15,000 thoughts have apparently been given Broadway. They were sent into the Association in reams. Replies came from bootblacks, bank presidents, dress reformers, landscape gardeners and people who just wanted to be funny. The suggestions varied all the way from abolishing cabarets and hobble-skirts to asking Trinity Church to plant grass between the stone wall of its cemetery and the sidewalk between 153d and 157th Streets.

Henry Bruere, former City Chamberlain, urged that Broadway be beautified and "devulgarized by some city planning."

S. D. Bain, president of the Seaboard National bank, was in favor of material improvement in the neighborhood of 30th street, where "Augustin Daly's old theatre, the former dramatic temple of America, once held forth."

One man suggested that the most beautiful light tower in the world be erected at Times Square, dedicated to the soldiers and sailors.

The thought about the paving on Broadway, which has been joked about at every Winter Garden review for years past, naturally came in for its full share of attention. One writer suggested a pavement which does not have to be renewed every three years.

A physician suggested that an elevated roadway for light automobiles be put over Broadway from 59th street to 117th street.

Remarks about the Subway were frequent and vehement.

Thoughts on flowers were numerous. One man suggested that elevated structures be made to bloom with sweet peas, geraniums and rambler roses, after the fashion of summer porches and city window ledges.

One man gave a thought to Broadway for a couple of days apparently and came through with this: "Make every storekeeper on Broadway maintain a canvas drop awning, so that during hard rains pedestrians will be protected."

Many writers demanded more light after 2 a. m. No one apparently was cruel enough to suggest, as the French officer did when they were discussing what they would do to Berlin when they entered it, namely, to leave it as it is now.

This week the Association will conduct the expansion campaign to decentralize their work and divide the entire street into districts. The actual work founded on some of the suggestions will be carried on by teams under the command of majors and captains. The General Chairman of the campaign is Dr. John A. Harris, and among the chairmen of the committee are Louis Kaufman, R. A. C. Smith, Chester Alexander, Deputy Police Comcissioner Frederick A. Wallace, F. B. Carey, Reginald Palham and John Williams of the Irving Trust Company.

When both Maryville, Nodaway County, Missouri and Broadway, that well known "village" in New York, find it profitable to untilize the modern force of advertising in selling a community to itself, advertising solicitors on newspapers everywhere with an idea and perseverance apparently have a brilliant opportunity to go and make their city fathers do likewise.—From "Printers' Ink.—— May 29.

TEXAS OIL MILL MAN IS GRATEFUL

McCracken Couldn't Eat or Sleep To Do Any Good Before Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac proved to be the very thing I needed, for it soon put an end to my troubles," said D. V. McCracken, 829 Second Ave., Dallas, Tex., night superintendent of the Dallas Oil and Refining Co.

"I had been troubled with indigestion for over two years," he continued, "and was going downhill fast. I was constantly belching up sour food and didn't digest enough to keep up my strength or do me any good, and I lived almost entirely on cereals. My stomach felt like there was a knot in it and hurt me all the time, and I was swollen up with gas till my heart would flutter and I would get dizzy. I could hardly sleep when I went to bed and got little rest at all.

"I had the best treatment money could buy, and kept getting worse all the time. I was induced by a friend to try Tanlac and it fixed me up so I can eat and digest anything I want and sleep fine at night. I have no more gas on my stomach, no palpitations nor dizziness, and I felt so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me that it is a pleasure to indorse it."

Tanlac is sold in Maryville by the Koch Pharmacy and by A. M. Colly, Conception Junction; H. M. Lincoln, Pickering, and Carter Pharmacy, Burington Junction, Mo., and in Barnard, by Bear Drug Store, in Elmo by King Drug Co., and in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley; Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk. —Adv.

Many War Brides Arriving.

Portland, Ore., June 9.—The June bride this year dons a veil of French lace, a collar of Irish linen, a traveling suit of English tweed and pays tribute at least to Japanese silk.

Fifty war brides from across the seas have already arrived on the Western coast, the vanguard of many, to make ready for their marriage to American soldiers. The brides-to-be are being chaperoned by the home service section of the Red Cross, while making ready their palaces and cots of love awaiting the release from the army of their respective bridegrooms.

All the "in-laws" have welcomed their new relatives with open arms. In twenty-one cases money has been given by the said "in-laws" for expenses across the seas and continent.
